JANUARY 2025: A RECORD START TO THE YEAR FOR THE TUSCAN AIRPORT SYSTEM

Florence, February 5, 2025 – The Tuscan Airport System ushers in 2025 with an unprecedented achievement: in January, the airports of Florence and Pisa recorded a total traffic of 486,000 passengers, exceeding the figures for the same period in 2024 by 5.6%. This milestone underscores Tuscany's growing appeal as a destination and the effective management of the two airports, with both domestic (+6.2%) and international (+4.7%) traffic growth.

Florence's "Amerigo Vespucci" airport is celebrating its best January ever, with 201,000 passengers and a 3.4% increase over 2024. Driving this growth is the 7.3% increase in commercial passenger flights, which more than offset the slight decline in the aircraft load factor (75.0% compared to 78.0% in January 2024). Domestic traffic was particularly dynamic, up 11.6%, and international traffic was also up (+2.0%). Paris remains the favourite destination for passengers departing from Florence, followed by Barcelona, Rome, London and Madrid.

Pisa's "Galileo Galilei" airport, with 285,000 passengers, shows an increase of 7.2% compared to January 2024, this result was driven by an improvement in load factor (+1.1 percentage points to 84.8%) and an increase in commercial passenger flights (+4.4%). Both traffic segments, international and domestic, show growth (+7.0% and +4.2%, respectively). Tirana ranks first among the most popular destinations for Pisa passengers, followed by London, Palermo, Catania and Bari.
